Rabbi's March Message

People complain to me that I am too much of a literalist, which might be true because I have cat, and we have a litter box. I grew up in a household of many languages. Until I was seven or eight, my parents spoke mostly German, even around my sisters and myself. I don't think they made us multilingual, they were just more comfortable in their native tongue. My parents spoke other languages as well. Unlike his son, my father didn't speak much. So, when they learned English or other languages, they adhered more to the exact letter or the literal sense, as in translation or interpretation: This, they passed on to their children.

As I learned German, I heard some very strange statements. Most didn't make sense to a seven-year-old. My father would constantly say to my mother, "Einen Zahn zulegen." Literal translation: To put a tooth on. My mother would say at times to my father, "Du gehst mir auf den Keks." Literal translation: You're walking on my cake/cookie.

I was recently reminded of this after visiting my mother in Israel a couple of weeks ago. Due to her dementia, she has at times reverted to the language of her birth. When asked what she means, she has difficulty translating to English.. My parents spoke different dialects of German. These childhood statements began flooding my brain. Then my mother said "Ich glaub ich spinne." Literal translation: I am a spider.

Germans tend to be very exact and less emotional and use language in an indirect way to share their true emotions. She meant to say that she felt she was going crazy, that she no longer felt in control of herself. So, on a joyful lucid moment, I revisited the strange statements of my childhood to get answers to how my parents communicated.

My mother smiled and laughed. She stated that my father didn't like her driving too slow, he would say did "Einen Zahn zulegen.," to put a tooth on, which is how Germans say speed up or step on the gas. The statement, "Du gehst mir auf den Keks.," You're walking on my cake/cookie meant, you are annoying me.

As the upcoming holidays of Purim and Pesach approach, give some thought to discussing and sharing memories of/ to your children and grandchildren. We are commanded more than once in the Torah Zachor (remember). On Purim we state Zachor (remember what Amalek did to you when you left Egypt) and during the Pesach Seder we say Zachor (remember with a strong hand and outstretched arm, the Lord took you out of Egypt). It applies not just to Jewish Law but to our lives, remember, remember, remember.

So, I will close with this German statement; "Sich die Rosinen herauspicken." Literal translation: To pick out the raisins, which means... To choose only the best parts.

B'shalom,

Rabbi B.

President's Message March 2025

As I sat down to write this message, the first thing that came to my mind is that this month marks one year since the passing of my dear friend and former co-President Paul. While I can't believe it is March already, and that Purim and spring are almost here, nothing marks the passage of time more. When making decisions about the good and welfare of Madison, I know I'm not the only one wondering "what would Paul do?"

We all know that time doesn't stand still, and this March is going to be the busiest we've seen in quite some time. For the first time since before the pandemic, Madison Jewish Center is participating in Shabbat Across America and Canada with a community Shabbat dinner and services. Bring a friend or two and join in the Shabbat spirit.

Looking forward to seeing you all at the Shabbat Across America dinner, Sisterhood's Torah Fund Brunch, and our Purim festivities. March surely has something for us all!

Chag Purim Sameach. Wishing you and your loved ones a joyous and meaningful Purim celebration filled with laughter, love and many blessings. May the joy of Purim inspire us to make the world a brighter more compassionate place.

Linda

Madison Jewish Center

Wouldn't you like to be a Kiddush sponsor with good food and good friends, continuing a successful tradition? Madison Jewish Center's major function is to provide for our religious and spiritual needs. Social needs are often closely related to these. Joining with other members of the MJC community to sit down to a meal can give us religious, spiritual, and social benefits. Following Saturday services Madison Jewish Center has a weekly Kiddush luncheon, giving attendees quality time together.

We would like to encourage as many people as possible to sponsor or co-sponsor these weekly luncheons. Comments from past participants range from, "great conversations," "opportunity to make good new friends," "no need to run home after services" to "hope these continue." There are levels of sponsorship to suit every budget. We are offering you the opportunity to donate $25.00 a month as a co-sponsor (or just $200.00 for the year) or $50.00 per month as a Platinum level co-sponsor (or just $300.00 per year), to our Kiddush Fund. If you sign up you will be listed in the monthly Message.

If you choose to be a full sponsor for a special occasion, the cost is $200.00 for the basic Kiddush (tuna, egg salad, bagels, cream cheese, cake, coffee, and tea) for a limited number of people.

Please email your response to emg522@aol.com, or send your check to the MJC office if you wish to be a regular or Platinum level sponsor for the 2024-25 year. Checks should be made out to Madison Jewish Center, (or you can use Zelle to info@madisonjc.org).

See you at services!

Thank you,
